

Global Workforce and Mobile Talent virtual webinar

23 and 24 June 2020

Unleashing human power: physical return and work reimagined Agenda overview

Time	Session	Facilitators
		Webinar 1 23 June 08:00 BST 09:00 CEST 15:00 China Mainland/ Singapore/HK 17:00 AEST 00:00 PDT 03:00 EDT	Webinar 2 24 June 08:00 PDT 11:00 EDT 16:00 BST 17:00 CEST 23:00 China Mainland/ Singapore/HK 01:00 AEST
08:00-08:15 15 min	Welcome	Michael Bertolino	Michael Bertolino
Transition to breakout streams 5 min
08:20-09:05 45 min	Why purpose, culture and employee experience should define preparations for the 'next normal' The COVID-19 pandemic will leave lasting changes to the way humans interact – both inside and outside of work situations. Organizations that want to thrive will need to usher in new ways of working. Explore the challenges and opportunities that responding to the next normal through a purpose, culture and employee experience lens presents.	Natalie Johnson Dr Katharina Luh	Maya Smallwood Joe Dettmann
	Back to travel and mobility In the next normal travel and mobility will remain integral to operational agility. Organizations that are able to respond and react to new compliance and regulations quickly will be best placed to minimize risk and deliver long-term value. Join EY subject matter professional and learn new strategies for adapting to the future of travel and mobility.	Dr Joost Smits Linda Rowe	Dr Seema Farazi Rachel D'Argenio
	Building a flexible, future-focused rewards and recognition strategy As the number of different generations shaping the workforce increases, so does the need to re-imagine rewards and recognition strategies in order to attract and retain talent. Join this discussion and explore why now, more than ever, the critical success factor is a focus on comprehensive employee wellbeing and incentives.	Mark Phillips David Ellis	Roselyn Feinsod David Ellis
	Workforce reimagined As organizations adapt and respond to the current crisis, there is a pressing need to hold in mind that what plans are put in place today will affect tomorrow's workforce transformation strategy. In this session, EY teams will shine a light on the impact that global and industry market trends will have on the workforce of the future and explore how transformation journeys can be most effectively progressed amidst ongoing disruption.	David Storey Vicki Jamieson	Liz Fealy Mitchel Balsam
TRANSITION to breakout streams 10 min
09:15-10:00 45 min	Breakout streams repeated as above	As above	As above
TRANSITION to main plenary 10 min
10:10-10:40 30 min	COVID-19: lessons learned, milestone moments Three senior HR and Talent leaders from different industries share the challenges they have faced, how they have navigated them and what's top of mind as they execute on their physical return strategies.	TBC	TBC
10:40-11:00 20 min	Wrap up and close	Michael Bertolino	Michael Bertolino